

Most Honorable Judge McLaughlin, CR 05-22E

Today, June 18 2006 I write to you in sincere humbleness to request that you Honorable Judge Sean J. McLaughlin grant me a sentence modification of a concurrent designation on my federal and state sentence. As of date we've been incarcerated for one year, two weeks, and four days as a result of my federal charge. Prior to that I never violated my state parole. When I was released from boot-camp on October 1, 2003 I attended various college level courses and had a handful of different jobs. I got married and had a wonderful baby-girl. I have a family that I urgently have to get home to. I need to be the father to my daughter that I never had in my life. I'm sure you are aware of my recent case my ignorance being in front of you. I'm fully responsible for my actions and I'm deeply sorry. I also understand that I have a sentence that must be served. As a result of that sentence, the State Parole Board's indecisiveness to parole me to my detainee has caused me to become gridlocked from serving my federal sentence. I'm currently sitting on dead time, time that can be counting during my federal sentence. I received a 1 year hit without a parole review date for this federal case. As you also may know I did cooperate with government officials to the extreme.

best of my ability, but for some reason it wasn't found to be substantial enough. If you was to look at the stenographer's notes it will show the agents did say I provided them with information they didn't know about. You importance, in hoping and trusting that you will find the compassion and concern to grant me this motion. Your Honor in truly trying to get home and be true husband, father and contributing member of society. Your time and attention deeply appreciated. I send my thanks in advance.

Respectfully,

Pierre Boyd

I was just told by my counselor that the reason why I'm still here is because they need the clerk of courts to send record of my sentence.
